Benefits

NEW Will there be changes to the L3 Master Savings Plan (MSP) and the ACSS 401(k) Plan?

- Your 401(k) match and plan administration at Fidelity will remain in place through calendar year 2019. As the integration process moves forward, we will partner with Harris to determine how to harmonize 401(k) plans at the combined company, and will communicate with everyone at that time.

NEW Will I be able to move my 401(k) plan balance to another qualified retirement account, such as an IRA, as a result of the proposed merger?

- No. Your 401(k) balance will continue to be governed by the terms and conditions of the plan.

NEW I am currently employed by L3 but was formerly employed by Harris. Following the proposed merger closing, will my former Harris service be counted as service?

- Service recognition is one of the many integration-related items that will require careful thought. We do not have answers just yet, but will share more information on this and other integration considerations as soon as possible.

NEW With the larger employee base, do you expect the merger to reduce the cost of benefits to employees?

- As the integration process moves forward, we will assess whether cost saving opportunities exist. Some benefits, such as healthcare and pharmacy expenses, are already largely self-insured by L3 and Harris—our companies pay for the full costs of the programs themselves, supplemented with employee premiums, co-payments and co-insurance – with costs primarily dictated by employee utilization. Other benefits, such as disability, life and accident coverage, and voluntary benefits (identify theft protection, group legal plan, hospital indemnity insurance, etc.) are provided by third parties and may be more efficiently purchased by the larger combined company.

Can you explain the impact to the L3 401(k) savings plans with the 1.3 share distribution of Harris stock per owned L3 stock?

- Once the transaction closes, the balances held in the L3 Stock Fund in the L3 Master Savings Plan (MSP) and the ACSS 401(k) savings plan will convert to the new L3 Harris Technologies Stock Fund. The conversion ratio will be 1.3 shares of L3 Harris stock for every one share of L3 stock.

- It is important to note that while the conversion ratio will be the same, the L3 Stock Fund in the 401(k) savings plans is currently recorded as units, not shares of L3 Stock.
- A prospectus for the new L3 Harris Stock Fund will be distributed to all MSP and ACSS 401(k) plan participants as soon as administratively possible following the anticipated closing of the merger in mid-2019.

What effect will the merger have on the L3 pension plan for eligible participants?

- Earlier this year, a communication was distributed to employees participating in a non-bargained L3 sponsored pension plan. These changes will continue as planned.
- Participation in the L3 sponsored pension plan for bargained employees will continue according to the terms of the Collective Bargaining Agreement.
- At this point in time, there has been no discussion to further amend or freeze future benefit accruals in the non-bargained pension plans.

Will severance be offered for employees who are impacted by the proposed merger?

- As of now, no decisions have been made, and both businesses will continue to operate as separate entities until the transaction closes.
- Both L3 and Harris currently maintain severance policies and plans for eligible employees and we will partner with Harris on this in the weeks ahead as part of integration planning.
- We will provide additional details regarding severance eligibility and terms as available.

Compensation & Incentives

NEW

Are there any anticipated changes to Management Incentive Bonus (MIB)?

- At this point, we anticipate no changes to MIB in 2019. We will explore harmonization opportunities as part of the merger integration planning efforts.

What impact will the merger have on my compensation?

- Both businesses will continue to operate as separate entities until the close of the transaction and your compensation and benefits will generally remain the same other than normal changes as part of our annual open enrollment and annual merit cycle. The integration team will examine various disparate benefit programs and make recommendations on opportunities to ensure employees continue to have competitive salaries and high-quality benefits. We are committed to communicating in a timely and transparent manner as we move forward and decisions are made.

Will there be any changes to my health plans benefits?

- Until the merger closes, which is expected in mid-2019, your health plan and other benefits will generally remain the same, subject to routine updates as part of our annual benefit review.
- We are not planning any material changes to L3 employee health plan benefits at this time, and employees should continue to follow normal enrollment procedures.
- If there is migration to the other party's plans after the merger closes, both L3 and Harris have generally agreed to give the other party's employees service credit for eligibility, vesting and accrual purposes (except for benefit accruals under pension plans).
